"TOO FAKE.—A stranger is received according to his dress, and taken leave of according to his merit.

GOON.—He was a sensible man who said the newspaper is the best breakfast company in the world.

"It is very sickly here," said a son of the Spanish Isle the other day to another. "Yes replied the other, "a great many have died this year, who never died before."

"Catsup!—Tell your contemptible general," said an old woman in a village through which passed the army of Napoleon, to one of his corporals. "tell him that I have a very despicable opinion of him." "I will," said the corporal, "if you insist upon it, madam; but you can't think how it will distress him."

RATHER SHARP.—A railroad conductor having assisted a lady passenger, she said indignantly that the company which owned that road should not see another cent of her money. "How so?" said the conductor, "how can you manage it?" "Hereafter," replied the lady, "instead of buying a ticket at the office, I shall pay my fare to you!"

AN UNFORTUNATE SHERIFF.—Sheriff Anson Wright of Northampton, Mass., is something of a rascal. A few days ago, a scurvy-looking stranger presented him with a paper saying—"I presume you would have asked me, had you known my situation; for, whether you believe it or not, every bit of property I have in the world is in the hands of the Sheriff." The astonished stare of the sheriff's eyes at that moment was a sight to see.
